

Above: Standard Class winners, L-R: Brits Jon Meyer, Silver, Mark Parker, Gold, and Andy May, Bronze (Robin May)
Jon and Andy were among the eight day winners in the Standard Class, with Markku Kuusisto and Teemu Sundstrom (Finnish team members) each scoring one day win, as did Nicolai Larsen (Denmark) and Garret Willat and Michael Westbrook (both USA). The only pilot in this class to score two day wins was Christian Lyrenmann of Switzerland. During the nine-day contest at Husbands Bosworth in Leicestershire, 58 pilots flew 135,654km in 512 flights, with 442 finishes and 70 landouts. The fastest flight of the entire competition in either class was on the final flying day, Friday, August 18, 2005 when Standard Class Silver medallist Jon Meyer did 112.23km/h around 327.2km
